

Texas ash
Fraxinus texensis

Green ash

Fraxinus pennsylvanica

To tell apart from Green Ash notice the shape of the leaf scar & the wing position on the seed

Lacebark elm

Ulmus parvifolia

Pondcypress Taxodium ascendens

Baldcypress

Taxodium distichum

Texas persimmon
Diospyros texana

Bigtooth maple

Acer grandidentatum

Vitex or chastetree Vitex agnus-castus

Desert willow Chilopsis linearis

Yaupon holly
Ilex vomitoria

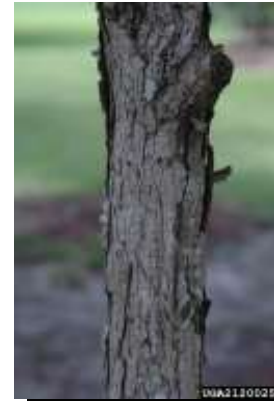

Eve's necklace

Styphnolobium affine

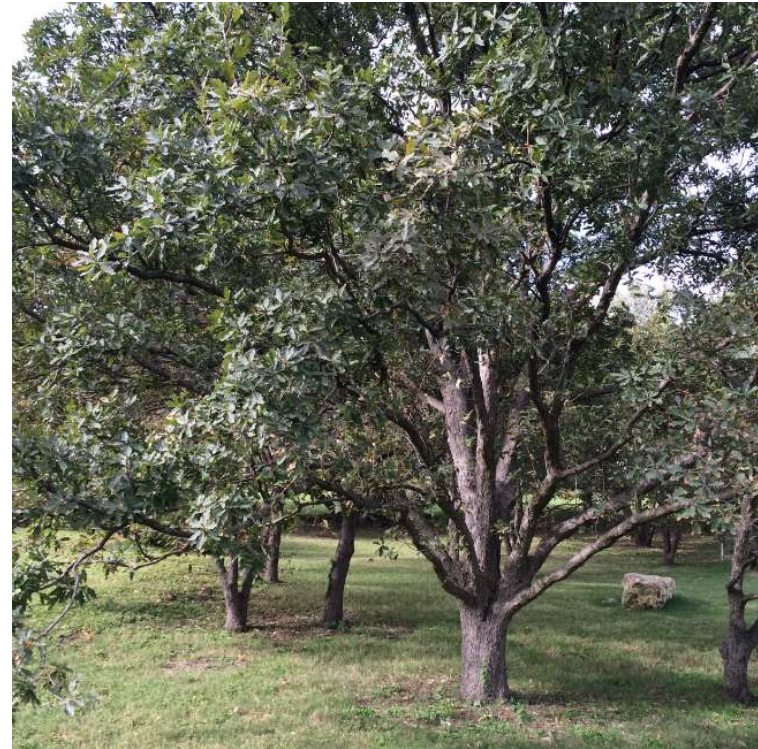

Chinquapin oak

Quercus muehlenbergii

Lacey oak
Quercus laceyi

Shumard & Texas red oaks

Quercus shumardii & buckleyii

These species hybridize readily where their ranges overlap producing many trees with combined characteristics

Shumard acorns.
Larger than TX and very flat cap

Live oak

Quercus virginiana (or fusiformis)

For the most part:

Q. fusiformis is native west of I-35
and Q. virginiana east of I-35

Bur oak
Quercus macrocarpa

Cedar elm

Ulmus crassifolia

American elm
Ulmus americana

Eastern redbud Cercis canadensis

In Central Texas there are also the Texas &
Mexican redbuds

Carolina buckthorn
Frangula caroliniana

Mexican plum Prunus mexicana

Southern magnolia

Magnolia grandiflora

Ginkgo

Ginkgo biloba

Pecan Carya illinoensis

Osage-orange Maclura pomifera

